

14 (LLM-2) 2.5 LRMT

2013

LLM

Paper : 2.5

(Legal Research Methodology)

Full Marks : 80

Time : 3 hours

The questions are of equal value

1. It is an acknowledged fact that the quality of research depends on several factors including the grounding of the scholar in basic foundation. What are the tools methods and mechanisms expected from a research scholar towards knowledge creation? Explain in detail.

Or

A law research is expected to be conversant with certain basic tools before venturing into active research. What according to you are the basic areas that one has to be conversant with before venturing into active research? Identify the various tools and identify their positive aspects.

(2)

2. What is scientific method? Describe the important steps of scientific method.

Or

What are the conditions of a valid hypothesis? Examine the place of hypothesis in scientific method.

3. How do the techniques like structured questionnaires, interviews, sampling, presentations and case studies help socio-legal research in qualitative methodology?

Or

Debates surrounding methodological issues in analytical techniques appropriate to socio-legal research encourages a critical approach through the use of reflective leg. Discuss.

4. How do you prove veracity of statements made through doctrinal research? Elucidate. Do you feel that it can lead to accurate results?

Or

Doctrines legal research has been in vogue for a long time and there are different views on its utility. Examine the significance of doctrinal legal research highlighting its utility in the world of internet.

(3)

5. What do you mean by data analysis? Is it solely based on collection and interpretation of data or other elements and ingredients are also involved? Explain the procedure to be followed for proper data analysis involving research on child marriage.

Or

Write a brief note on report-writing technique. What according to you are the essential components required to be considered and utilised in the writing of a good research report?

Commerce Point